Leaflet No. 3

April 2008

You can make your own notes here

A meeting is going to be held because some people are worried about your safety and well being.

The people at the meeting will talk to you and your family, and then decide how to try and make things safer and hopefully happier for you.

As this meeting is about you, it is very important to find out what your views and feelings are.

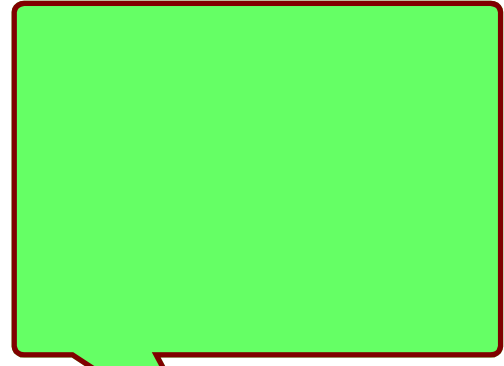

You and your family ...

Choose a few of the people at the meeting and what you think they might say about you and your family.

Think what you would like to say back to them.

You can tell your Social Worker where you would like to sit if you come to the meeting.

You, and your carer/parent(s) will be invited to the meeting, along with other adults who know about you and your family in some way - like teachers and school nurse. All these people will talk about how you and your family are getting on.

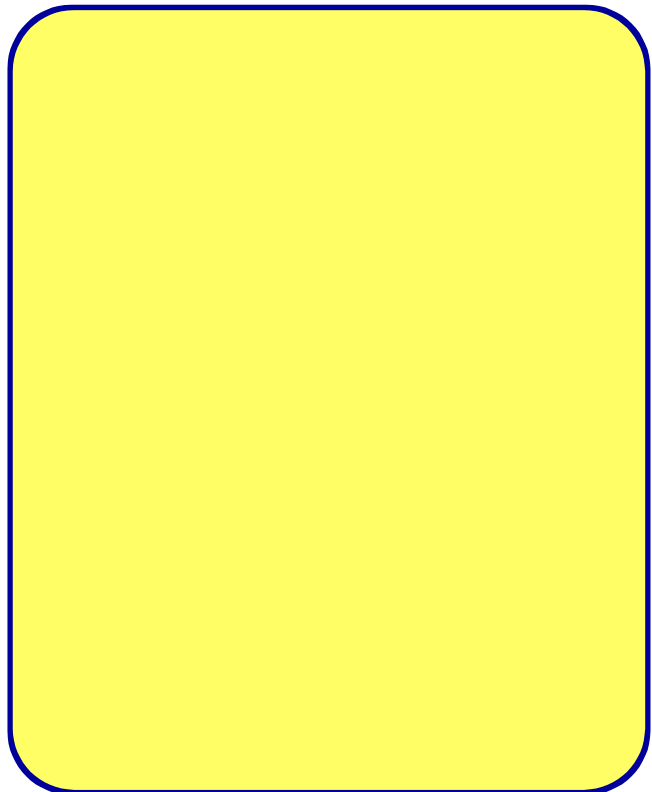

This will include how you get on at home and at school. They will talk about both the good and the not so good things that are happening now, or that happened in the past.

We would like to ask you...

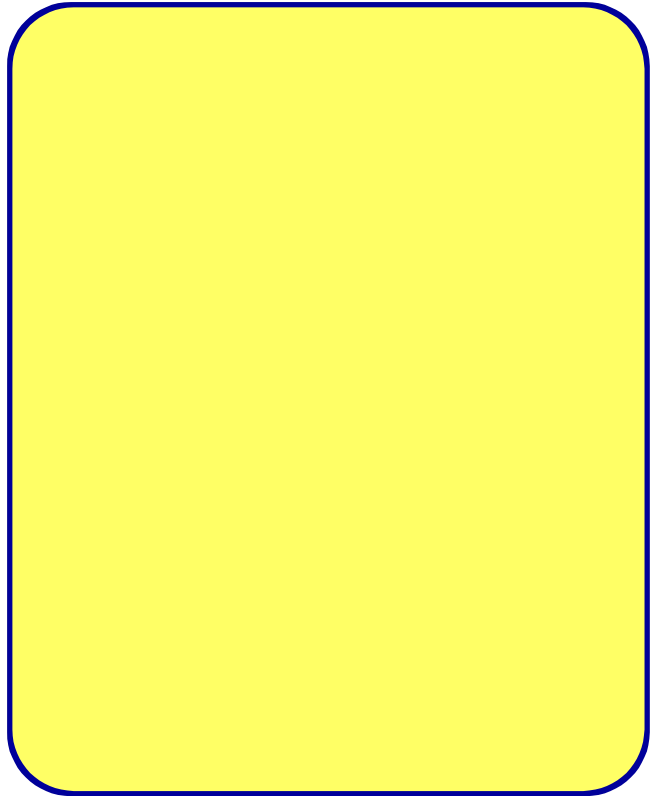

How are things for you at home or in placement?

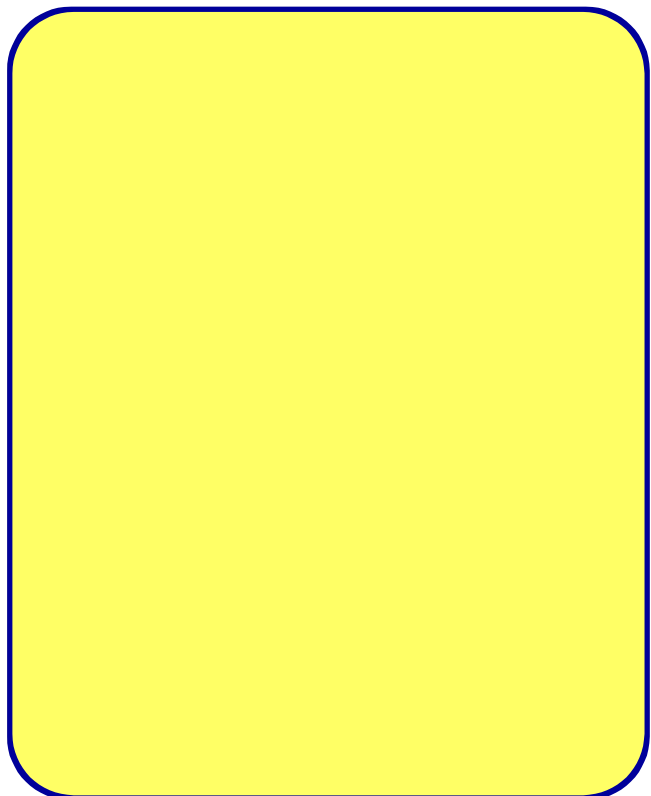

What would you want to change in your life?

Is there anything you don't want to happen?

Is there anything you would like to say, to the meeting, or ask?
